Dear friends of DAAD,

This Nairobi Express comes to you with important information:

- On a major expansion and change of procedures for all In-Country/In-Region Scholarships. Universities and research institutions should have a closer look in order not to miss the deadline to apply as institutions.
- PhD Proposal writing workshop in March and June.
- A new German-Kenyan co-operation project in higher education to start this year.

Enjoy your reading.

DAAD Scholarship

Call for Applications for higher education institutions: In-Country/In-Region Scholarships, Eastern Africa

The DAAD expands and renews its In-Country/In-Region Scholarship Programme for postgraduate students in Eastern Africa.

The institutions have to make the first step.

Universities, research institutes and research networks from member states of the East African Community as well as Ethiopia and South Sudan are welcome to apply for (re-) admission to the Programme. Upon admission, institutions will be supported with a quota of Master and/or doctoral scholarships.

Students will at a later stage be encouraged to apply for scholarships at institutions that have been selected.

Please note that there are only three weeks left:

The deadline for applications is 20th March 2015.

Please visit <http://nairobi.daad.de> for further information.

WANTED:

Kenyan University with engineering focus for the Kenyan German Centre for Applied Resources Management (KENGER)

The German Federal Foreign Office and the Kenyan Ministry for Higher Education have formed the Kenyan German Centre for Applied Resources Management. Through the DAAD, it will facilitate a partnership between a German University of Applied Sciences and a Kenyan University with a strong engineering focus.

Kenyan Technical Universities will soon be requested to send in their expression of interest. Following the selection of a suitable university, DAAD will publish a tender open to German universities of applied Sciences interested in collaboration with the selected Kenyan partner. Funding is expected to start in October 2015.
